Staff training checklist for -- alcohol

Staff member full name: [REDACTED]

A new checklist should be used to record when;

- a new staff member is appointed
- changes to the shops alcohol licence or policies have occurred
- when carrying out refresher training for existing staff.

It is an important way to demonstrate how you are trying to comply with the specific requirements of your alcohol licence and the objectives of 2003 Licensing Act, so should be kept in a safe place. We would recommend best practice is to keep completed checklists on the shop premises in a clearly labelled and accessible 'alcohol licence' file.

1. What the law says about selling alcohol & the penalty staff and the business can face if an underage sale occurs?	✓
2. That the shop has to have a licence to sell alcohol. That they understand what the licence requires and the consequences for them and the business should any person sell alcohol in breach of any aspect of the alcohol licence.	✓
3. What the alcohol licence and annexed conditions requires. For example this includes basic requirements, such as; ensuring alcohol is only sold during licensing hours, mandatory conditions as well as any conditions that are set out in the Annexes to the alcohol licence that are specific to your individual premises, e.g. where in the shop alcohol can be displayed for sale.	✓
4. Why selling alcohol underage and underage drinking is a problem for local communities, as well as the harm caused to underage drinkers themselves?	✓
5. What your shop policy is for challenging customers for proof of age?	✓
6. What your shop policy is, for the types of proof of age (ID) staff should accept?	✓
7. What to look out for in relation to fake ID and how to check ID to ensure the person is who they claim to be?	✓
8. What to do if they challenge someone using fake or someone else's ID?	✓
9. How to operate any 'till prompt' system installed?	✓
10. The signs to look out for that the customer may be buying alcohol for others who are underage ('Proxy purchasing')?	✓
11. What staff should do if they suspect the person they are serving is a 'proxy purchaser'?	✓

12. What your shop policy is if a customer becomes aggressive because of a refusal to sell alcohol and steps staff should take to protect themselves?				✓
13. What to do if person they are serving is 'drunk' and what your store policy is as to what 'drunk' means?				✓
14. Where and how to record any refusals to sell, challenges for proof of age, use of fake ID or any other incidents such as aggressive or abusive customers etc?				✓
15. Why it is important to record incidents/refusals to sell?				✓
16. The law that staff under the age of 18 are not allowed to sell alcohol to anyone and the consequences for breaking this law?				✓
17. What the shop policy is for an under 18 year old to get authorisation for sales involving alcohol?				✓
The above areas are a best practice minimum only. Use the section below to write down other areas of shop practice that you train staff on, that will help you avoid selling alcohol to under 18's or help your shop comply with the objectives of the licensing Act 2003. For example, if you operate a banning system for problem customers, what do staff need to know for it to operate successfully? (If you need more space, note this is the case below and securely attach an additional sheet).

Alcohol Purchasing Policy

This policy is prepared to ensure that alcoholic products sold at Retail 24 is legitimate, in accordance with licence conditions and are duty-paid. Any failure to comply with the policy by any member of staff will be regarded as gross misconduct.

Staff who suspect that stock is not legitimate or have not had duty paid must immediately report the product to the licence holder and remove the stock from sale. It must be stored in the designated area and clearly marked with a sign that states that it is “Not for sale”.

SUPPLIERS

Alcohol is only to be purchased from suppliers on the approved suppliers list.

In order to become an approved supplier, checks will be made to ensure that the supplier has a valid AWRS registration and a physical address.

If the proposed supplier is a registered company, their details will be checked with companies house (www.companieshouse.gov.uk).

The name, address, AWRS number (where available) and contact details of the wholesaler shall be recorded in a file that shall be kept with receipts for wholesale alcohol purchases. Invoices (or copies) for all alcoholic goods on the premises will be made available to officers from the council, police or HMRC upon request.

DELIVERIES

When deliveries are made, it must be accompanied by a delivery note that has the suppliers name on it, along with full details of what is being delivered. A refusal of delivery will otherwise be made.

The delivery will be checked to ensure that it corresponds with the note and that other products have not been substituted, particularly if the ordered item is currently marked as ‘out of stock’. A check will be made to ensure that the products comply with the conditions of the licence.

Upon delivery, a sample of the products will be examined to verify that the containers have not been tampered with and a record of this check will be made.

STOCK VERIFICATION

When checking stock, a comparison will be made against a known genuine product or a document which provides identification information, as well as the conditions of the licence.

Signs of counterfeit / non-duty paid goods that will be considered in completing the check will be ;

- labels that do not appear to be aligned correctly,
- Labels with inferior quality printing or paper
- Labels which have glue protruding from the edges
- Labels with spelling mistakes,
- Labels that do not have bar codes or have bar codes with consecutive numbers, eg 123456.
- Labels that do not have batch numbers or have a batch number which seem unusual – eg 123456 or 2323232
- manufacturers/producers details and country of origin.
- Tampered seals, which may mean that a bottle has been refilled.
- For products which contain 37% ABV or more, there should be a duty stamp. The inner part of the stamp should light up under UV light. If the whole label lights up, it is likely to be counterfeit
- In the case of bottles, fill levels which seem to be inconsistent. Genuine manufacturers tend to be accurate with the quantity in each bottle.
