Paragraph 2.2, add sentence: "Eleven objections have been received since the agenda was published, nine are from previous objectors and two do not provide addresses. Officers consider that no new issues have been raised other than an objection that there was no re-consultation following receipt of revised drawings. Officers response is that we consider a re-consultation was not required given the scale and nature of the revisions including that they sought to address some of the objections raised. The revisions amounted to the removal of two windows to the east elevation and the replacement of some openable windows with fixed-shut windows to the north elevation."
