Hello Maria

I am unable to attend the hearing on the 4th October. However, I wish to make it clear that I shall NOT withdraw my objection to the grant of licence to Snowflake Ice Cream despite the amendment they have made and the disappointing decision by the Noise and Nuisance Authority to withdraw their representation.

Please see below my continued objections to the grant of the licence:

- 1) The extra clause states there will be no "public" callers. However, commercial outlets and couriers could still collect the ice cream from the property AND furthermore, deliveries of supplies for the manufacture of the ice creams will still take place.
- 2) There will continue to be noise and traffic disruption to what is a residential area where families with small children will have their lives disrupted.
- 3) It is unacceptable that the business hours extend beyond Monday to Friday normal office hours 0800 - 1700
- 4) Granting this licence could open the floodgates to further applications from other businesses in the same area - negatively impacting what is a residential road.

Dear Maria

Thank you for this. For the record, I do not withdraw my objections to the application. Whatever conditions are now proffered, they only serve to lessen the impact of the proposed business, not to remove it. It is fundamentally misconceived to site a takeaway alcoholic ice cream business, operating extended hours with numerous deliveries by moped or motor bike in a quiet residential street.

Best wishes
Christopher

Thanks Maria

While this does address some of the concerns the fact remains that Overstone Road is essentially an entirely residential street and it is not appropriate to run the kind of business that will see a constant and frequent stream of couriers and delivery vehicles operating to-and-fro at the address, with attendant noise, pollution, obstruction and hazard.

This business needs to get set up in suitable business premises – it is not something that can be run from a home in a residential area without causing unacceptable and unnecessary nuisance to neighbours.

Best wishes
