Comments: 24/10/2023 3:38 PM I object for the prevention of public nuisance. This is a residential neighbourhood which is currently quiet and peaceful at night. Allowing alcohol sales so late will attract rowdy groups who leave the premises late at night and cause disruption and disturb the residents.

Comments: 05/11/2023 12:31 PM I am the Chair of the residents' association (HRRRA) covering Parsons Green Lane, Shottendane, Elmstone, Harbledown Road and Novello Street. We have been in existence for more than 30 years and our primary function is to encourage a neighbourly feel to the area and to liaise with the local authorities on matters that affect our residents.

This is a relatively new restaurant which we are pleased to have in our area. The HRRRA Committee has never had any complaints and the food is delicious.

We also understand that operating a restaurant at a profit is extremely difficult in the current climate and we do want this venue to succeed. We also understand that any alcohol has to be accompanied by a meal.

However, this has to be balanced against the right of the residents to have some peace at night. It should be noted that Parsons Green Lane is mainly residential with a lot of young families living in the houses and flats.

Parsons Green Lane already suffers from a considerable amount of noise nuisance and minor ASB and adding to the problem is not an option, we are therefore opposed to an extension of the hours of operation under the following licence objectives:

- The prevention of crime and disorder
- The prevention of public nuisance

However having discussed the matter with Scott Hallsworth I believe a compromise is available and we are looking for the following:

1. The licence applies only to Scott Hallsworth and cannot not be passed on to a future tenant of 28 Parsons Green Lane or in the alternative it expires after five years.
2. That there shall be no outbound deliveries of food/meals or alcohol (especially by Uber and Just Eat motorbike drivers).
3. That the premises closes at 12 midnight on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday and 11pm on Sundays.

We reserve the right to make further representations after more discussions with our residents and the restaurant's representatives

Comments: 13/11/2023 7:30 PM Myself and my family live [REDACTED] Freak Scene. We like the restaurant and Scott and his team are nice and talented people. It is an exciting venue for foodies to discover and we would love for the restaurant to thrive.

We do however have issues with noise relating to music playing which on occasion makes the flooring hum with the vibrations caused by the bass. I do quite often have to ask them to turn the music down so that we can have a reasonably quiet evening after having had a long day at work. Their idea to lengthen the opening hours even further than they currently are set, scares me as I do feel that our lives are being impacted every time I have to ask the music to be turned down. I find the whole process quite stressful. It sometimes feels like there is no let up, particularly on a Saturday where the music starts around lunchtime and finishes late into the evening. After service sometimes when the restaurant is closed the music is turned up for the clean up job which again we can hear from our bedroom and I have to ask for it to be turned down.

On occasion, there will be people smoking on our doorstep/next to it talking loudly which has woken us up in the past. This is quite a rare occurrence though.

We have 2 children, one who has significant learning difficulties. The added stress that these extra hours could have on the household makes me concerned about the future.

This is generally a quiet residential neighbourhood and although I am in favour of the restaurant, I am not of the extra hours.

Dear Sirs

2023/01691/LAPR 28 Parsons Green Lane SW6 4HS

I live in a [redacted] within a [redacted] of this restaurant. My bedroom faces onto [redacted] I am now elderly and not in the best of health.

Patrons of the local bars and restaurants already interfere with my sleep, not only by drunken antics and shouting but with the constant slamming of car and taxi doors.

I would be very grateful if the Licencing Committee does not approve the extension of the licencing hours and closing times, especially on week days.

Yours sincerely
