Dear Mr Ali

You appear to be potentiality talking about including A5 Hot food takeaway – for the sale of hot food for consumption off the premises. If you are selling hot food to be taken away then the use may be Class A5 or potentially sui generis, a mixed-use Class E and A5, which may require planning permission depending on the proportion of hot food sales taken off the premises.

Subject: Regarding Grant of license.

Dear Neil Milligan,

I write further to your email dated 9 June 2025, contents of which have duly been noted therein. I have been trying to contact you over the phone numerous times however you have not been in reach.

I wish to confirm that our shop is operating as a Café and not a restaurant but we are in Class E category. Our products are already cooked and we only preheat the products on waffle or crepe machines which therefore does not create any noise.

I assure you that after midnight business operating hours it will not create any public nuisance. However, all Kaspas shops' products are pre cooked and we only preheat the products on machines before serving which does not create any nuisance.

Therefore, I request you to allow us to operate the business after midnight as requested.

Yours sincerely

Muhammad Ali
